Visit in Pacific Paradise Will Be Roosevelt Climax

Is First President Ever to Visit Officially Hawaiian Islands

IT HAS EVERYTHING

Hawaii Land of Sunshine, Tourists, Volcanoes and Surf-Bathers

This is the last of five stories of what President Roosevelt will see as he visits American island possessions and Hawaii, as he passes through the Canal zone, and in Hawaii, goes to his long voyage.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent (Copyright, 1934, NEA Service Inc.)

WASHINGTON—In his voyage through America's outlying domain, President Roosevelt will see the loveliest sights and have the most fun when he reaches the Hawaiian Islands.

No president has ever been there before and the "Paradise of the Pacific," 2,000 miles off the California coast, is no end excited about it.

It takes a volcanic eruption, a massive case, or a presidential visit to make us remember Hawaii. But, Roosevelt will visit the islands as our strongest outpost of national defense, the only outlying territory of possession we have that is on a paying basis, and a strange mixture of races where west meets east.

Publicity blurs from the island sound fantastic in their hyperbole. But you get the same story from thousands of returning visitors.

The statistics showing average year-around temperatures of 72 to 78 are indisputable. And there isn't any market there for either fur or electric fans.

It's Land of Everything

It's a land of equatorial weather, tourists, volcanoes, beaches, surf-bathing, Japanese, mountains, forests of sugar cane, tropical foliage and flowers, Chinese and Filipinos, motor roads without billboards, pineapples and palms, native dancing, coral reefs, canyons, craters, coves, Portuguese, soft breezes light summer clothing, soldiers and sailors and forts, American millionaires and vast estates, contract labor, oriental native feasts, Koreans and Puerto Ricans, legends of strange gods, banyans, poincianas, shower trees and—

It's all part of the United States. Everyone born in the islands automatically becomes an American citizen. There are nine inhabited islands, each rising from the coast to mountain ranges and peaks, in a 400-mile chain connected by airplane and steam-ship lines. The two principal islands are Oahu and Hawaii. In Oahu is Honolulu, capital and biggest city—a modern enterprising metropolis of 120,000 souls, big hotels and department stores, newspapers, miles of suburban concrete roads, university buildings, a factory that can put up a million cans of pineapple a day, country clubs, and good old Waikiki beach.

Tourist Trade Enormous

Passenger steamers arrive about once a day, bring the from five-to-10-million dollar annual tourist business.

Storks Cinch Pennant in Two-States

Texarkana Beaten 8 to 7 in Rally in 8th, on Sunday

Storks Close First Half With 18 Victories and 12 Defeats

ATLANTA 2 TO GO

Texans Have Only Mathematical Chance to Tie Locals

After spotting the Texarkana Tiresome to 4-0 lead, the Storks staged a belated but spectacular batting assault that carried them to a 8-7 victory Sunday afternoon, virtually cinching the first-half pennant race of the Two States League.

Atlanta, hit two games remaining on its schedule, has only a mathematical chance to tie the Storks.

Grice twirled good ball for the locals, but erratic fielding behind him allowed the Tiresome to get away with four runs in the second inning.

Errors by the Storks, coupled with bunched blows by the visitors gave the Tiresome three more runs in the fifth inning, and a 7-2 lead.

Hope tallied twice in the second inning, and scored two more in the last of the fifth on Russell's slashing double that brought home Bill Schoolley.

Grice singled to score Russell.

Hope scored another run in the seventh.

Big 8th Inning

The Storks' big rally was in the eighth. With two on base and no outs, Elliott was sent in as a pinch hitter.

He pounded one against the left field fence.

Umpire Cornelius first ruled it a fair ball, causing a loud protest and threats by Texarkana players to contest the game. Two runners scored.

The game was delayed several minutes while players on both sides and Umpire Cornelius squabbled over the decision.

A compromise was later effected when it was learned that the foul line had been changed, but no notice of it had been given to the visiting team.

Compromise Reached

The compromise recalled the two runners, and gave Elliott first base leading the big Jimmy Cook hit a bouncer to second base which got away from Earhart, scoring a runner.

Two more tallied gave the Storks the lead and the ball game, closing the first half of the 30-game season with 18 victories against 12 set-backs.

Atlanta, winning over the Transports Sunday, has 16 wins and 12 losses with two games to play before completing 30 contests.

The Rabbits, by winning both games, can tie the Storks, resulting probably in a play-off series between Atlanta and Hope to finally determine the first-half winner.

The Atlanta club, by dropping either of the two remaining games, would clear title to the championship.

Barham to Begin Revival on July 9

Dallas Minister Will Conduct Services Nightly at Skating Rink

The Barham Evangelistic party of Dallas, Texas, will begin an old-fashioned revival in the skating rink on North Main street Monday night, July 9, continuing through the month of July. Services will begin promptly each night at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. W. S. Barham, who has been in the ministry for 17 years, was formerly a Methodist pastor, having been identified with the Methodist church, South, for a number of years. He is now pastor of Faith tabernacle at Dallas a thriving independent Full Gospel church and is widely known for his song work.

The song services will be in charge of Levey Barham, the evangelist's brother, who has been closely associated with him in his work in Dallas. One of the features of the revival will be the lively spiritual singing. Mr. Barham will be assisted in the special singing by Miss Pauline Rowland, who will also be at the piano. Miss Rowland ranks high as a radio singer, having been engaged in this work for four years.

The tabernacle is cool and comfortably seated. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to come and help throughout the meeting.

The closest presidential race in American history was in 1876, when Rutherford B. Hayes was elected by 185 electoral votes against 181 for Samuel Tilden, although Tilden's popular vote was greater.

Fairview Pie Supper

A pie supper and political rally will be held at Fairview, near Emmett, on Saturday night. Revenue derived from sale of pies will go to purchase lights and song books for the church.

Oklahoma Fugitive Is Arrested Here

John Bradley, Negro Slayer, Captured by Hope Police Sunday

John Bradley, negro, sought for more than a year after a break from the Oklahoma penitentiary where he was serving a life sentence for murder, was captured here Sunday by officers Burke and Reeves.

The negro's suspicious actions led to his arrest as he sauntered about the Missouri Pacific railroad tracks.

When searched of his baggage the negro had several pair of new shoes, Bradley said he purchased them in Texas.

Officers lodged him in jail, and then checked the police photograph gallery where they uncovered a picture leading to the negro's identification.

Presented the picture, the negro admitted he was a fugitive from justice, and expressed a willingness to return to Oklahoma without fighting extradition.

Bradley said that he was convicted in 1909 for killing another negro and sentenced to life in the state penitentiary.

He had served more than 20 years, when a year ago Easter, he escaped. Bradley said he had been at liberty since. He told officers that he had attempted to leave the United States three times, but fearing his fingerprints in obtaining legal transportation papers would reveal his identity, kept him in this country.

Chief of Police Clarence Baker wired Warden Brown at McAlester, site of the Oklahoma prison, and notified him of Bradley's capture. Authorities are expected here Tuesday to return the prisoner.

Von Hindenburg Orders Army to Protect Vice Chancellor

Copyright Associated Press.

BERLIN, Germany.—(P)—Scores of Nazi troops, possibly hundreds, have been arrested throughout Germany in Chancellor Hitler's "house-cleaning," it was learned Monday.

Sub-leaders were arrested in wholesale fashion after a week-end of violence which saw a number of their superiors summarily executed.

Estimates of the number of arrests ranged from 100 to several hundred throughout Berlin, Brandenburg, Bavaria, Silesia and Pomerania.

No death list has been issued, but it is expected that the number will exceed 18. The propaganda ministry announced that a full list of executions in the abortive revolt will be published late Monday. A press official admitted that Gregor Strasser, National Socialist leader, was among those executed.

BERLIN, Germany.—(P)—President Paul von Hindenburg Sunday made the Reichswehr—the German army—personally responsible for the safety of Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen.

The president threatened to declare a state of siege if von Papen is victimized for his recent bold stand against some of the Nazi policies.

President von Hindenburg's stroke was quickly followed by advice from unusually well-informed quarters that the vice chancellor would resign or be ousted at the instigation of Chancellor Hitler probably Tuesday.

Supreme Court Enjoins Jefferson County Treasurer in School Case

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—The Arkansas Supreme Court held Monday that a county treasurer can not pay out school funds for the retirement of bonded debts unless the electors specifically authorize a levy of taxes for such purposes.

Claud Pledger, Jefferson county treasurer, was restrained from making further payments on bonds and interest of the Pine Bluff district, because the electors levied the limit of 18 mills for general operating purposes and no part for the building fund.

The first rehearing granted by the court in many months was given Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Hendrickson in an appeal to have set aside a mortgage foreclosure granted the Farmers Bank & Trust Co. by Columbia chancery court. In its original decision the supreme court admitted an oversight of a statement of facts which warranted a rehearing.

Darrow Board in Final NRA Attack

Repeats Charge That Monopolies Are Being Helped, Not Hindered

WASHINGTON.—(P)—In its third and final report, Sunday, the Clarence Board asserted nothing had been done "to remove or even to restrain" monopolistic practices which it said it had uncovered in NRA codes investigated by it.

"On the contrary," the board said, "there seems a sinister purpose to entrench them still more securely in the processes of the act to make still more unquestioned the monopolistic sway of the great interests."

The National Recovery Act, through fostering monopoly, the board said, had "become, not the foe, but the adjunct of depression."

The final report, presented to the president four days ago, was made available by the board a few hours before the scheduled departure of Mr. Roosevelt on his ocean cruise.

The NRA codes, the board concluded, were "too drastic and attempted to do too much." In this connection it recommended that the price-fixing attempts of NRA be abandoned as soon as possible.

The Hope Community Canning Kitchen will open Tuesday, July 3, in the small building behind old Garland School on South Washington street between Fourth and Fifth streets. Mrs. Leon Bundy has been appointed canning supervisor, and her assistants will be appointed later.

The kitchen is to be operated slightly differently from the method used last year. Cans will not be furnished every one, as was done last year. ERA cans are to be issued only to those families who are direct relief or rural clients, those who were on relief last winter and received garden seed, and "borderline families" who are not able to furnish or buy cans.

Schedule of Tolls

The tolls to be paid by persons using the center is as follows:

All persons using ERA cans will pay a toll of one filled No. 3 can for every five cans of fruit and vegetables and one filled No. 3 can for every four cans of meat.

Clients furnishing their own cans will pay a toll of one filled No. 3 can or one filled quart jar out of every ten filled pails or cans.

Empty cans will not be given to

Rules and Regulations

Rules and regulations have been set up by the State Department of Garden and Food Conservation, which will govern all canning kitchens operating under the supervision of the ERA. These rules and regulations, which are posted in each kitchen, are as follows:

1. Every canning kitchen operating under authority of the Emergency Relief Administration must meet the following sanitary requirements:

a. Every paid employee must have a health certificate.

b. Every canning kitchen must provide adequate waste disposal. Drainage must be provided for liquid waste to avoid contamination. Solid waste must be either burned or placed in closed garbage cans and then later removed from premises.

c. All canning kitchens must be completely screened.

d. Canning kitchens must have concrete, wood or packed clay floors. If dirt floor is used it must be kept free of dust.

J. R. Henry Describes Visit of Ashdown Man to District Office

CREATED NEW JOB

No Opening, So Administrative Cost Was Step-up to Create One

Asked by newspaper men Monday what it was brought pressure to get certain men into federal relief supervisory jobs as charged in his statement Saturday, J. R. Henry, former district administrator, revealed he had been approached by Dick Johnson and a Mr. Toland of Ashdown.

Henry said that when the relief organization switched over from the county to the district plan the state office set up an administrative and supervisory personnel for each county in the district.

Henry's Statement

"After the setup was affected in Little River county by J. J. Robertson, district rural rehabilitation supervisor," said Mr. Henry, "both Robertson and I were approached by Johnson and Toland to find a job for H. M. Orton of Ashdown, who up to that time had served as county administrator. We declined; on the grounds that the setup did not provide for any additional supervisory personnel."

"The following day after Johnson's and Toland's visit, I was instructed by Edgar A. Hodson, assistant administrator in charge of the rural program, to create an additional rural field supervisory post in Little River county and give the job to Orton."

Dick Johnson is a brother of Chief Justice C. E. Johnson of the Arkansas Supreme Court, campaign manager for Governor Futrell in 1932.

It was reported here Monday that Mr. Henry would be succeeded in the local district office by Former District Administrator Burkett of Pine Bluff, whose arrival here is expected Monday night.

Dyess Reply

LITTLE ROCK.—Charges of J. R. Henry of Hope, district relief administrator who resigned Friday, that W. R. Dyess, state director, is out of sympathy with the true aims of the federal relief program and is doing "everything in his power to wreck it," were answered by Mr. Dyess Saturday night with the comment:

"Henry was a protégé of Mrs. Gertrude S. Gates, and as soon as she got out, he resigned, and I guess he felt like he had to take a crack at somebody. That's all there is to it."

"The administrative cost which he complains about, as being too high, was his own set-up. He asked for that much money, and we gave it to him, because Mrs. Gates said she thought she knew what he was about and would need that much money to get the district organization started. But it was made clear to him that the amount would have to be cut down."

No Successor to Mrs. Gates

Mrs. Gates, who was assistant administrator in charge of social service, returned to Washington last week after completing a three months' assignment here. Mr. Dyess announced that no successor would be appointed to her post, but that her duties would be divided between Floyd Sharp, executive secretary of the FERA, and W. A. Rooksby, director of the United States Employment Service.

MRS. SID HENRY TELEPHONE 321

When you come to the end of a tiring day,
With no name on the dotted line,
Do you ever think of the friends you made
Of those who did not sign?
You lifted burdens here and there;
You smiled when you wanted to frown;
You tried, as a brother, a burden to share,
And God was looking down.
There ar some who give of their bounteous store,
Of wealth they have never earned;
But you have given a priceless gem
To those for whom you yearned.
You planted a seed of hope, of love,
For out of the seeds you plant each day
When no one seemed to sign
Will come a harvest of joys untold—
Of names on the dotted line! Selected.

President Leaves on Pacific Cruise

To Visit Caribbeans, Thence to Panama and Hawaiian Islands

ABOARD THE U.S.S. GILMER—(AP)—The Cruiser Gilmer, with President Roosevelt aboard pointed down Chesapeake bay Sunday night on a 13,000-mile journey that will carry the president to American possessions in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Smiling with boyish enthusiasm, Mr. Roosevelt went out to sea from Annapolis, Md., amid the farewells of the family gathered on the Naval Academy pier and the applause of a crowd of well-wishers.

The president went to the Houston, three miles out on the destroyer Gilmer. Admiral William H. Stanley, chief of naval operations, greeted the president as his car rolled up to the foot of the Gilmer's gangplank. The crew of the destroyer lined the starboard rail, drawn up at attention.

Mrs. Roosevelt and others of the family gathered around to wish the president, Franklin Jr., and John, bon voyage. A Sunday crowd milled back of lines which naval academy guards held. The president went up the gangplank as camera flashes flared. About he stood with hat off, at the rail, laughing.

Travel down the Chesapeake on the Houston was gaged for an arrival at 7 a. m. at the Hampton Roads naval base for an exchange of last minute official papers. Immediately afterwards, the presidential flotilla will head past Cape Henry for the Atlantic and Puerto Rico, first landing place. A stop will be made at Haiti Thursday where the president of that island will be received on the Houston during a brief stop.

After visiting Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands this week-end, Mr. Roosevelt will go to Cartagena, Colombia, South America. It will be the first time a president of the United States has visited this neighbor continent.

From there he will proceed through the Panama Canal to Hawaii which also will be visited first time by a president of the United States. Arrival at Hawaii tentatively is scheduled for July 24.

After four or five days in the Hawaiian islands, Mr. Roosevelt will depart for the American west coast where he probably will land at Portland, Ore., about August 2.

The final figures for the year produced wide discrepancies with the estimates sent to Congress by President Roosevelt in January, when he made allowances for all the possible contingencies of the recovery effort.

Then, he predicted receipts of $3,259,938,756 (they proved to be $3,115,551,049.53), expenditures of $9,403,000,967 (actually $7,105,050,084.95), a deficit of $7,399,068,311 (actually $2,989,496,035.42) and a public debt at the end of his year of $29,847,000,000 (actually $27,033,141,414.48).
